Excerpt: .after the business, too, while we re gone; no, I could n t let the two childer cross the say alone. Coom now, don t be sayin anny more prayers; sure, we ll be sayin them together in the old church coom Sunday. There, don t cry, Mary, don t cry, now! Coom in in the house! Sure, all the folks sint their remimbrance, and hoped you d come back with us and stay a long while. That s our intintion, too, for you, continued Patrick, none the less tearful himself because he was so full of fine importance; but nobody could stop to listen after the first moment, and the brother and sister were both crying faster than they could talk. A minute later the spirit of the hostess rose to her great occasion. Go, chase those white hins, Nora s mother commanded the gossoon, who had started back to bring up more of the richlooking bundles from the side-car. Run them up-hill now, or they ll fly down to Kinmare. Go now, while I stir up me fire and make a cup o tay. T is the laste I can do whin me folks is afther coming so far! God save all here! said Uncle Patsy devoutly, as he stepped into the house. There sat little Nora with the tired baby in her arms; to tell the truth, she was crying now for lack of J ohnny. She looked pale, but her...
