Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from University of Saskatchewan: President s Report for the Year 1919-20 Mr. Chancellor, Members of Convocation: If I were asked by you to give one year s history of a mighty river, it would possibly be most important and most significant to describe faithfully and in detail the routine of its ordinary proceeding, its frozen period and its period of freedom, the services rendered by it during these periods in yielding ice and water, waterpower, in carriage of traffic, in drainage, and in the furnishing of various forms of recreation to the dwellers in its neighborhood; if, in fact, I recited those things which are involved in its proceeding in an orderly fashion along its course between its restraining banks. But I should probably be found dull. It is natural to be more interested in the unusual, to desire to hear whether in the winter the river was frozen to the very bottom or, in a most remote contingency, frozen not at all, whether at the breakup in the spring any local celebrities lost their reputations...
